1. Justification of tender

Supply of medical equipment is part of the project "Improvement of First Medical Aid Services in Omalo, Tusheti Region" (CzDA-GE-2014-10-12220), Georgia. The aim of the project is to improve the access to health care in remote areas of Georgia. Tourism industry is rising in protected areas of the Great Caucasus Mountains in Tusheti region, a number of tourists visit Tusheti protected landscapes and Tusheti National Park and go hiking, rafting or climbing. Together with local inhabitants there is about 2000-2500 population during summer season. Altitude of mountains in Tusheti region reaches 3 000 metres above sea level and so transportation in emergency cases is difficult and prolonged (it takes about 6 hours) and it puts a patient's life under great risk. Between main risks and injuries that affect people living or visiting the mountains of Tusheti region are illnesses linked to the problems with high altitude, high blood pressure, diarrhoea or wounds such as fractures or dog bites. By improving the first medical aid, the chance of surviving injured people in the mountains will increase. The goal is to enhance basic medical care that will enable better and more successful transport of patients to the nearest hospital. Within the scope of this project an ambulance car has already been supplied, but in order to complete medical care other medical equipment has to be provided.

2. Subject of the tender

In order to fulfil this demand, implementer will ensure the supply and installation of medical equipment specified in Annex no. 1 of this document. Implementer will provide the basic training of health personnel (at least 1 physician) in the use and maintenance of the supplied equipment as well. Supplied equipment must be covered at least 24 months warranty.
